

John L. Haag

Chief Financial Officer/Chief Operating Officer

John L. Haag joined CMEA Capital as Chief Financial Officer and Chief Operating Officer in 2006. Previously, John was with Burrill & Company, a San Francisco-based life sciences merchant bank and venture capital fund, where he also served as CFO and COO. Prior to Burrill, John was the Chief Financial Officer of early stage enterprises in alternative energy and media. He also served as Vice President of Finance & Administration for Softbank Emerging Markets, a $200 million joint venture between Softbank Corporation and the International Finance Corporation, chartered to invest in early stage information technology companies in various emerging markets. As one of Softbank's investment managers, John's responsibilities included investment in eFinance companies and enterprise applications. His career experience also includes positions in investment banking at JP Morgan & Co. and Bankers Trust Company. John started his career as a Certified Public Accountant at KPMG Peat Marwick after earning a Bachelor's degree in accounting from The University of North Texas.